THE MORNING HERALD

BY E. W. HARRIS & SON.

Entered at the postoffice at Greenville, Texas, as second-class mail matter.

Wednesday, March 2, 1910.

ENOUGH.

Oh, what is enough for one, my love is always enough for two.

The stars and the moonday sun, my love.

Will satisfy me and you.

One roof is enough to cover us again.

One little umbrella for the days of rain.

One little love song with a soft refrain.

Will certainly nicely do.

Oh, what is enough for one, my love is always enough for two.

There's best enough in a um, my love.

For any fond lovers true.

One cozy parlor will serve us well.

One dining room, with one dinner bell.

And one little cook and a hired "el" will carry us nicely through.

Oh, what is enough for one, my love is always enough for two.

And when the old day is done, my love.

I'll prove it joy to you.

I'll show you how one dear little chair holds plenty of room and some to spare.

At twilight time for a loving pair.

Who know how to bill and coo.

Oh, what is enough for one, my love is always enough for two.

In troubled times or in fun, my love.

One portion, will always do.

One dear little home with one front door.

One sweet little sea by the moonlight shore.

One heart, one soul, one mother-in-law.

Is ample for me and you.

—Carlyle Smith in Saturday Evening Post.

THE GREAT CONTEST IN CHICAGO.

It is the unexpected that happens sometimes—for example, a local option fight in Cook county, Illinois, and the city of Chicago, or all cities in the land Chicago is one of the last where such a contest would be expected—a real, red-hot, race to the finish, knife to the hilt local option election, just like we have in Texas sometimes. We would as soon expect such a contest in Galveston or San Antonio as in Chicago. But it's on in Chicago and will be fought to a finish, culminating in April, and the whole country is looking on with keen interest. "Pro" leaders say: "If our people can win in Chicago we can tackle any stronghold of John D. Barleycorn." And the "Anti" say: "If Chicago can be voted dry no place is secure." And thus it is that the eye of the country, "pro" and "anti," is fastened on the Windy City by the Great Lake, eager to see how the fight will terminate. Chicago is the voters (if all were to vote, number tally Cook county, Illinois, and the perhaps 500,000. It is the "dry" element that is bringing on this election. "Pro" leaders say they have a good chance to carry the election and drive every saloon from the great city. But the "Anti" leaders say there is absolutely no reason to fear that Chicago will go "dry." It is noted, though, that both sides have marshaled all their forces for this fight, raised big sums of money, and it is evidently going to be a historic struggle, with probable far-reaching tendencies and results.

INSURGENT ULTIMATUM.

Either the "insurgents" of today are the republican party of tomorrow or else when tomorrow comes there will be no republican party.

There are no birds in last year's nest. There are no votes for the republican party in 1912 or in 1916 because it freed the slaves in the civil war or saved us from the silver banns in 1896.

A few states in the south are surely democratic and a few states in the north are surely republican, but the decisive votes in the deciding states will be for the republican party only by reason of what it now does and seems likely to do to free the masses and save the government from the clutch of organized privilege.

The president is depending upon Aldrich and Cannon, the servants of organized privilege, to put through the Roosevelt policies he so ardently desires, and his face is turned away from the "insurgent minority," to whom those policies are dear. It is a false situation which can not last. Nor can any dependence be placed upon those so-called leaders to enact those policies into law.

In looking to Aldrich and Cannon to best organized privilege off from the prerogatives and power it enjoys, the president is leaning on a broken reed. He belongs with the insurgents and they belong with him.

Either the "insurgents" of today are the republican party of tomorrow or else when that tomorrow comes there will be no republican party.—Indianapolis News. (reg.)

THE HABIT OF CHEERFULNESS.

Cheerfulness will attract more customers, sell more goods, do more business with less wear and tear than almost any other quality, says Orion Sweet Madden in "Success Magazine." Optimism is the greatest business getter, biggest trader, the greatest achiever in the world. The optimist has never done anything but tear down and destroy what optimism has built up.

In the business office, as in society everywhere, the favorite is always the cheerful person. Good natured, cheerful people do not waste their vital energy as rapidly as the grumbler or the too sober, too sad people. They work with much less friction.

Good cheer is a great lubricant; it oils all of life's machinery. Shakespear says:

"A merry heart goes all the day. Your road turns in a mile—a."

There is no other life habit which can give such a prolific return in happiness and satisfaction as that of being cheerful under all circumstances. If the transition to cheerfulfulness is already made at the very outset it will not be very difficult to form the cheerful habit, and it will be the best protection against suffering and disappointment.

Cheerfulness is also a great producer of U. S. dollars wonderfully to one's active ability, and increases mental and physical power. It makes hosts of friends, and helps us to be interesting and agreeable.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Some men boast of their lack of cause none of their relations ever visit them.

People who take pains to tell the truth on all occasions have but few friends.

What a glorious country this would be to live in if turkeys were as easily raised as rats!

And the face of the homely girl is her chapman.

Jolly an egotist and he will jump any way you want him to.

A truly thoughtful friend never exaggerates any of our faults.

All the world's a stage—but two of the actors get in the limelight.

Young people waste an awful lot of enthusiasm at a football game.

The right kind of a conscience has handicapped many a man in the race for wealth.

An Ohio man fell and broke his neck, the day before his wedding was scheduled to take place. Some men are born lucky.

The only reason we care to be a millionaire is for the purpose of inducing bill collectors to call our acquaintance.—Chicago News.

The face curtain is no longer regarded as a luxury. Most every American housewife likes to have a set of these at each of her more important windows, but if any of these good women construed the promise of the president to remove the tariff downward to mean that they would get their face curtains at a lower price, they are doomed to disappointment. The industry in America is purely exotic, the child of a protective tariff, and at every step this cost increases because at every step the tariff drops in to levy a toll. The Nottingham curtain, the standard of the industry, requires highly-skilled labor. The curtains are constructed on intricate machines, every one of which must be imported, at a tariff tax of 45 per cent. The fine yards specially spun for the industry, the manufacturer is obliged to use and without which his looms cannot operate can be imported at 50 per cent duty. The workmen had to be imported, and they are all protected because of the tariff duty on their finished product, 55 per cent. And the householder pays all the expense, plus the profits from maker to seller.—Ex.

For a couple of weeks we may look confidently toward Philadelphia to produce riot, bloodshed and possibly murder. With 100,000 men aligned on one side and 100,000,000 aligned on the other, there is bound to be a clash that will shake the country. Compulsory arbitration is seen to be more and more a national need with such recurring great labor upheavals. The money so far lost through wrecked cars, extra police patrol, payment of time and loss of business would pay, ten times over, all the demands of the strikers.—San Antonio Light.

The Lash of a Fiend.

Wouldn't have been about as welcome to A. Cooper of Chicago, N. Y., as a merciless lung-lacking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was a real troublemaker at night," he writes "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never coughed at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for asthma, colds, obstinate coughs, sore throats, laryngitis, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. It's positively guaranteed by all druggists.

Worth a Dollar a Drop.

Fred Patchett, Mantoloking, N. Y., writes:—"For a long time I was afflicted with kidney trouble which caused an almost constant pain in my back and inflammation in my bladder. Other remedies did not even relieve me, but two fifty cent bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy completely cured me and I have not had any recurrence of kidney trouble for over two years." C. W. Gee.

A Timely Protection.

Everyone knows the long effects of La Grippe are often more dangerous than the disease. So often it leads to pneumonia, which a weakened heart action makes fatal. La Grippe coughs that strain and weaken the system yield quickly to the healing and strengthening qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. C. W. Gee.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Greenville Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times it's the kidney's fault. Backache is really kidney ache. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Greenville women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. L. Hayman, 412 W. Lee St., Greenville, Texas, says:—"For nearly two years I was subject to attacks of kidney complaint. There was a dull, throbbing ache across the small of my back which kept me in misery and the kidney secretions were too frequent in passage. Headaches were common and until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Ford & Pennington's Drug Store, I could not get relief. They not only removed the backache but corrected the difficulty with the kidney secretions and improved my health. Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly a good kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
